

Variables:

A python variable is a reserved memory location to store values

You do not need to declare variable types before using them

```
year = 2024
```

```
print(year)
```

```
= 2024
```

Here year is the variable.